

Demonstration Week of the White Sewing Machine

Miss Zener from the White factory is in attendance all this week.

You will be interested to see the product of over forty years' continuous effort by manufacturers to manufacture a high-grade family Sewing Machine.

The White is a quality product, through and through. Distinctive in design, thorough in execution, lasting and satisfactory in service. This is the reason why so many homes boast of having one of these machines.

THE LONGER YOU USE THE WHITE THE BETTER YOU'LL LIKE IT.

Begin to-day by joining our Club. A small payment down and easy weekly payments settles the remainder.

Fred Humphrey of St. Johnsbury called on Barre friends yesterday and to-day.

Rev. T. M. Aubin of Swanton, who is here to attend the convention of Catholic Foresters, is a guest of friends on Summer street.

Mrs. Lester P. Clough and little son of Nelson street have been passing several days in the home of J. D. Clough in Orfordville, N. H.

John A. Wilkinson, who has been renewing acquaintances in Barre, returned this morning to Ticonderoga, N. Y., where he is employed.

Mrs. A. G. Miles of South Main street returned yesterday from Waterbury, where she has been visiting at the home of her sister during the past several days.

Arthur L. Averill and Sydney Kidd were among the Barre Masons who left the city this morning for Burlington to be present at the annual convocation of the order.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cutler and daughters, who have been residing at South Barre, left yesterday for Hartford, Conn., where the former has secured employment.

E. J. Rulfo of Railroad street has completed his duties in the City Wine store, and with Mrs. Rulfo expects to leave in a few days for Hartford, Conn., to be employed.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank J. Nutting of Brandon, who were recently married in that place, are passing several days with the latter's mother, Mrs. Leona Pitkin of Jefferson street.

Howard Gauthier of Elm street, who has been employed at the Woolworth five and ten cent store until recently, commenced his duties at the Marion lunch room yesterday forenoon.

Sprague Drennan of Washington street, who recently completed a year as principal of the school in Middletown Springs, has been revisiting acquaintances in Barton, where he was formerly engaged as a teacher.

Harold Faulkner of South Main street, who has been employed by the American Express company in this city during the past few weeks, left yesterday for Bretton Woods, N. H., to which place he has been assigned by the express company.

Charles A. Lundgren, who has been passing a fortnight with his family on upper East street, returned this morning to Pittsford, where he is receiving treatment in the state sanatorium. Mr. Lundgren has made rapid strides toward recovery since he enrolled in the institution last December, and expects to return to Barre early in the fall.

A unique souvenir of France, in the form of a carved shell from one of the famous French 75 guns, has been received by Miss Margaret Dowers of Cable street from her brother, Corp. C. J. Dowers, D Company, of the 102nd Machine Gun Battalion. Corp. Dowers was one of the young men, who enlisted in C Company, which was recruited from Barre and vicinity. The shell is being displayed in the window of the Smith & Cummings store.

A Spaulding high school student, Clarence Campbell of Cambridge, is the winner of the first prize given by the local Daughters of the Revolution each year for the best essay on Lafayette. The three prizes are awarded to the three best essays written by the members of the graduating classes of Spaulding high school, Montpelier high school and the Waterbury high school. The second and third prizes were awarded to two students from the latter two high schools.

The scheduled game between the Spaulding high school and the Waterbury high school baseball teams, which was to have been played yesterday afternoon at Waterbury, was postponed yesterday forenoon by the management of the latter team. Manager Young has not as yet received any word from the management of the Rutland high school team in regard to arranging a game to decide the state championship, although it is unlikely that a game can be arranged at this time, owing to the graduation exercises, which will be held next week.

Deputy Game Warden Charles Keith of North Seminary street received instructions this morning to proceed to Orange, there to confer with a farmer whose stream, it is alleged, is posted in violation of the fish laws. It is claimed that the brook was posted for a year on the condition that the owner would stock it with trout fingerlings. The year expired May 1, and thus far, according to the fish and game department, no move has been made to stock the waters. The department is exercising extreme vigilance in the matter of property owners who have posted their brooks and then promised to stock them.

Under the auspices of the Barre Woman's club, the first of a series of floral exhibitions will be held in the vacant store in the old town hall some day this week. It will take the form of a pony show and as many flower growers here in Barre have manifested a desire to exhibit, it is expected that a splendid assortment of specimens will be shown. At intervals during the flower season, four exhibitions are to be held. In years past the public has evidenced deep appreciation of the occasional flower shows held under the auspices of the Woman's club, and it is hoped that the forthcoming exhibition will attract many visitors.

In his eightieth year, Charles F. Green, assistant superintendent of Forest Home cemetery, Milwaukee, Wis., is revisiting the scenes of his boyhood in Highgate, and yesterday he came to Barre to call on friends whom he knew in the days before he left his native state to become a resident of Wisconsin. In the Forest Home cemetery he is associated with James Currier, the superintendent, who took an active part in the annual convention of the American Association of Cemetery Superintendents, which was held in Barre last August. Despite his age he is in vigorous health and experienced no difficulty in following the more youthful Supt. Alex. Hanton in an inspection tour of the city cemeteries. Mr. Green will visit extensively in Swanton and Highgate before returning to Milwaukee.

Yesterday's account of the death by drowning of Bruno Marriotti, who fell into Stevens branch from the railroad bridge near Blackwell street, Sunday evening recalls to a Times reader that the bridge has been the scene of tragedies other than the three accounted in the news story of Marriotti's death. In 1902 the branch at that point was dragged for the remains of a painter and the body was finally found and brought to the surface. The post-mortem examinations did not indicate that death had resulted from drowning, and wounds on the body strengthened the theory that there had been foul play. Nothing that the police or prosecuting attorney uncovered in the aftermath of the autopsy tended to incriminate anyone, and the case was dropped. About eight years ago the body of a small boy was found on the banks of the river near the bridge. Three other fatalities have followed in recent years.

The Satisfaction of Being Prepared

Are you ready with the right kind of goods for hot weather? Are you waiting for others to select before you? You cannot be waiting for lower prices for that is not the way of things this year. We must figure on paying more rather than less for first-class merchandise of all kinds. We have several kinds that we are still offering at very near the old prices. These we bought before the large advance and are giving you the benefit of these early purchases. The following values will surely interest you.

Warm Weather Values

line at $1.00 each and can give you values up to $8.50. These are the Pre-Shrunk, in the season's best materials.

You will surely be interested in our line of Summer Wash Skirts, and when you consider the prices of cloth at the present time you will realize the values we are offering in these Skirts.

We bought our Skirt stock early, and of people who owned their cloths at very nearly the old prices. Hence, these very reasonable prices we are offering you are the season's best Skirt values.

White Skirts are more popular than ever; they always look so fresh and clean, and every time they are laundered they look like new.

The Pre-Shrunk Skirts in the Printzess and Wooltex makes are values that appeal to all. These are a Skirt that is made from the season's best cloths, that were bought before the big advance of cotton goods.

See this line of Skirts while the assortment is at its best. We start the

Cool Summer Waists

Have you seen our line of cool Summer Waists? This is a line of Waists that is of more than ordinary interest. You will surely be surprised at the Waist values we are able to give you.

See our line of Colored Waists in white grounds with colored collars and cuffs, and others with colored Stripes and Figures. These are real good quality Voiles in colors that are fast, and the prices are right.

We have just received another shipment of those popular Jap Silk Waists, in White, Colors and Black. These are a good quality and the price is only $2.00 each. See these values.

We have a large assortment of a little heavier Corded Waists in Colored Penell Stripes, that we are selling at only $2.00 each.

See our line of Georgette and Crepe de Chine Waists. These we carry in sizes from 36 to 52.

See our line of Pongee Waists.

Prices for To-day

In our Basement is a good assortment of Skirting Stripes at 25c per yard. These will be 50c or more next season.

Silks for skirts and dresses will soon be advanced. These are selling at but little more than the old prices.

We are now paying 40c per dozen more for Spool Silk. This will give you an idea of the raise to come on Silks for dresses.

Lots of things look exorbitant in price. If you will look for good trades you will find them. Prices on Dry Goods when compared with cost of manufacture have been wonderfully well kept down.

Hosiery has not been advanced to equal cost of manufacture. Large stocks in the hands of retailers have kept prices down. In lots of instances retail prices have been less than wholesale prices, the retailer being satisfied with a small profit in order to keep his business moving.

Anything that you buy now will be 20 per cent. less than after Sept. 1.

Mrs. S. E. Laviolette.

Interest is being manifest in the children's patriotic rally proposed for next Sunday. At 5:30 o'clock it is planned that children from the Baptist, Episcopal, Catholic, Presbyterian, Methodist, Universalist and Congregational Sunday schools, shall gather around the park and sing and march, to the accompaniment of band instruments. Martial hymns of the church and national anthems will be sung, and Mayor Eugene C. Glysson will extend a word of greeting. In many other cities where this celebration has been carried out, the children have been very enthusiastic in showing their loyalty and patriotism.

VERMONT STATE BARGE TERMINAL

Seems Nearer a Possibility As Result of Action By Congress.

Congressman Frank L. Greene has notified H. S. Howard, acting secretary of the State Barge Terminal commission, of which Gardner Brewer of Burlington is chairman, that the rivers and harbor bill, which contains an additional appropriation of $200,000 for continuing the improvement of the Narrows of Lake Champlain has passed both houses of Congress and gone to conference expecting that it will soon be approved by the president. This appropriation with that made by the last Congress will make available over half a million dollars for straightening the narrow neck of Lake Champlain extending from near Fort Ticonderoga to Whitehall, N. Y., head of the new Lake Champlain division of the new New York State Barge Canal.

Gen. W. W. Witherspoon, New York state superintendent of public works, which includes the canal, has issued an important and interesting pamphlet on the subject of shipping coal by water through all the branches of the New York canal covering a very large territory including the Lake Champlain district, and through Burlington as a terminal point for the water transportation coal would be permitted to reach Vermont. New Hampshire and northern New York with a much shorter railroad haul. This water transportation would relieve the railroads which are forced to embargo freight and would prevent congestion of traffic the more it is adopted for various classes of bulk freight.

The present submarine menace along the Atlantic coast shows that a safe inland water route that could deliver merchandise from the west and south in addition to the service direct from the coal fields to a point like Burlington whence it could be delivered by rail to northern New England becomes almost a necessity and Vermonters should study the subject very carefully and decide whether or not the state should build a terminal. The commission expects to meet in conference with the people at various points in the state, Montpelier, Barre, St. Johnsbury, White River Junction, Bellows Falls, Rutland and St. Albans.
